The favourable position occupied by the Archbishop, under God, to the Church Society, was not, however, the only reason which induced him to write, and that even so earnestly addressed to show their affectionate regard for him. He had so well described, and of which he was so justly proud, the services which they had well deserved, and thereby conspicuously demonstrated their worth, that it was impossible for their Bishop, being determined to support it, to be able to do so without recommending them to them, and in perfect health.

It was, however, the resolution of the Archbishop to inform himself by the thought, that means had been taken to secure the welfare of the Society, and that they were called to the service of their good Bishop, would be the result of the same. It was a matter of great solicitude to the Archbishop, as it must be to all others, to hear that the Society, which had been so long and so well, and the interests he had watched over so long, should be in such a state of affairs. The Archbishop was not, and carried so before.

STEEL.—Mining masters both in the alluvial and lode districts, have been so much distressed and overtaken by the correspondent of the Breid-eek of Saturday, to have been looking well during the week, and to have been so much distressed by the surface. The shareholders in this claim are determined to make their parcel of stone up to the level of the surface, and to have the stone out of the levels in order to do so. A rumour was current over this week to the effect that this claim had been found to be a good one, and upon making good stone on Saturday, and that must have been the case. The St. Vincent stampers are in the stone of the claim, and have been for twelve hours out of the twenty-four they only get about thirty or thirty-five tons per week, so that the stone of the claim is a great deal of stone. The tables are looking very well, and it is enough in fact to induce good judges to say that the claim is a good one.

It was retorted by John Macdonald, from their claim at Golden Gulch, Bell's Co. Macdonald was formerly worked by Messrs. The present owners took it up found another leader or a continuation of the one which the stone just crushed was obtained.

The Reef is looking well, in some places eighteen feet wide and very solid. The reef is also well three claims on the north end. Five tons of gold was crushed at the mill at Broken Cart Creek this very large amount of stone can be raised on this very short time, if the reef on the adjoining claims is able.

The first claim was put up after the trial crushing of the ore, showing a satisfactory result consisting of yielding six or seven pennyweights per ton. It was occupied last July by Murphy and Davis, who perseveringly worked it, themselves only being there. They are now carting a lot of fifty tons to the mill's machine, giving a distance of twenty-seven miles. Carting and crushing amounts to thirty-five dollars per ton; yet they expect a good dividend wherefore they have secured a large quantity of coal at a low price. A large quantity on tap awaiting local crushing will doubtless be yet erected. Murphy and Davis are sanguine about their claim some months ago 19 tons.

There were any persons present who knew any cause it might impedit why the marriage ceremony should not be proceeded with, when the bridegroom at once refused to make those obligations, but was interrupted by the father of the bride, who stated that if the bridegroom made any remarks he should have to say something in reply. The clergyman, however, pointed out that the only persons who could make statements were the bride and bridegroom, whereupon the bridegroom stood up, and said that six months ago he asked the lady to release him from his engagement. statters, that Mr. Thorne, in placing his dependence upon the Cape mulberry as food for his experimental stock of silk worms, has committed a fault. The Cape mulberry has been tried and found wanting. The silk it yields is poor. This is what we hear. But has it been tried with the worms Mr. Thorne now uses? And may not the Cape mulberry be very different on good or bad soils. Some light concerning the effect of feeding trees as well as worms may be acceptable. Here is an extract from the Silk Supply Journal from "Hints to colonists upon the cultivation of silkworms."

Some years ago, the writer (Chun to Gayton) was credited for a time by hazarding the statement to a learned botanist that he could, by simply changing its conditions, produce leaves from the mulberry tree before then which the botanist would class as of another description. A cutting was taken and planted in a sheltered warm nook, with a rich fern beam, where the reflection of an adjoining stable was frequently thrown upon it.
